EEP your body clean! Most people are very neat and clean in their outward appearance, but how about the Inside? Are you clean inside?

And if not, how can you face the world with clean thoughts, clear intelligence, a fair, just, bright mind and get your full share of capacity for work and enjoyment?

There's only one solution to the problem: Keep clean inside all the time. That's the answer.

Asked at the close of the meeting if the Members Tinley and Sargent stated that none had. Member Zurmuehlen left the eeting shortly before the close.

'Have you reached any conclusion as to whether the charges against Chief Jones were proven or not?" was asked. replied Commissioner Sargent, as we want it to be entirely harmonious. "Then you have not yet got together?" was suggested. "Well, not on all points," admitted Mr.

Sargent. The meeting was far from being harmonious, and it was evident from what could be heard on the street from the open window that Chairman Tinley held opinions in opposition to those of Commissioner tween the chairman and Mr. Sargent.

When the commissioners discovered that several newspaper men were outside the window, apparently overhearing the discussion, they closed the window.

Asked if any time had been set for another meeting of the commission, Chairman Tinley replied that none had, and that he dld not know when the commission would get together again.

Although the commissioners declined to give any information, it is inferred that the difference of opinion exists as to the person to be appointed chief in place of Jones. Carnival Company Elects Officers. The Council Bluffs Street Fair and Carnival company held its annual meeting yesterday morning and elected the following officers: President, Victor E. Bender; vice president, H. A. Quinn; treasurer, Henry H. Van Brunt; secretary, George S. Wright. Chris Jensen was elected to fill the vacancy on the board of managers caused by the absence from the city of W. A. Maurer.

Matters in connection with the annual fair and carnival to be held in September were discussed and propositions from a number of carnival companies will be considered at a meeting to be held probably early next week. The general plan of the carnival grounds will be the same as in former years, except that it was decided yesterday to place the booths on Sixth street, between Broadway and First avenue, on the west instead of the east side of the street. This arrangement will protect the occupants of these booths from the sun's rays.

The proceeds of the carnival this year will be turned over to the city for the lower Broadway paving fund.

Chicken Fighters Give Bonds. There was a motley assemblage in polic court yesterday morning when Judge Sny der called up the Sunday cocking main case. T. J. Monfort, the local chicken fancier who engineered the Council Bluffs end of the contest; Patrick Hasty, one of the local owners of the fighting chanticleers, and C. L. Williams, A. Snell and Dell Green, the owners of the South Omaha birds which would have gone down in defeat but for the interference of the police, each put up bonds in the sum of $100 for their appearance this morning, the hearing having been continued until that time. Lionel Burke, owner of the ground on which the main was being pulled off when the police arrived, was also required to give a bond in a like amount for his appearance. All of the others were discharged and the birds were returned to their owners, the police being glad to get rid of them as the constant crowing of over three dozen roosters proved anything but pleasant at headquarters.

Victor E. Bender, in a written communication, asked for a reduction of the tax payable by the New Nonparell company for 1906. He recited that in 1905 the company was assessed $30,000 and paid taxes on this assessment greater than any newspaper in Iowa except one in Sioux City and one in Des Moines. In 1906 the assessment was placed at $44,500, and he omitted Sargent. At times the discussion appeared to go before the Board of Review to have it to be somewhat heated, especially that be- reduced. The tax under this assessment amounted to $959,21, half of which he paid Attorney Wadsworth, counsel for O. P. March 36 of this year under protest, so he McKesson, who filed the charges against said. He asked that the assessment be Chief Jones, and for Charles M. CODIFYING SCHOOL LAWS OF THE STATE

First Work of the Kind in Five Years, During Which Time Much Important Legislation Has Been Enacted.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, May 27. (Special.)-One of the largest churches in Des Moines has set an example of reform in church furit is believed will be followed by many other churches of the city. This is the Central Christian church. The trustees and directors reached the conclusion that their church was a source of danger to the health of those who attended and obtained expert opinion as to what should be done, as a result of which they have directed the taking out of the church of all carpets and upholstery and replacing the same with more sanitary comforts. Rugs will be placed in the aisles and in the class rooms. and the floors will be kept polished. Everything will be done that is possible to keep out of the church everything that would hold a germ or make a breeding place for disease. The pastor of the church, Rev. Finis Idleman, has been ill a long time, first with one and then another trouble. The church has a very large membership and the Bunday school and other meetings are always crowded. Seeking a Lost Relative. The chief of police of Des Moines today received information from Arnold Pryor of Lamar, Colo., leading to the belief that Pryor's grandmother is here, and he seeks to find her. Her name is Mrs. Carrie Wood and she has been separated from her husband. Pryor desires to find her, and if he does he states he will give her a home. It is stated that Mrs. Wood's husband formerly lived here. Thomas Reviews Troops

General E. D. Thomas reviewed the troops at Fort Des Moines belonging to the Eleventh cavalry at 9 o'clock this morning. He was accompanied by Lieutenant Colone Murray and Lieutenant S. C. Reynolds. while the squadron under review was in charge of Lieutenant William McKinley. General Thomas was accompanied here by Mrs. Thomas and together they will return to Omaha.

Swine Breeders to Meet. The annual meeting of the Iowa Swine Breeders' association is to be held in Des Moines commencing June 11. The next day there will be a meeting of the National Association of Expert Swine Judges. The two meetings will bring together a large number of the more preminent awine breeders of Iowa. This association is responsible for the appropriation of $75,000 for a new swine pavilion at the state fair grounds which is now in process of erection. Codifying School Laws.

The school laws of Iowa are being edited and codified in the office of State Superintendent Riggs, with a view to having a new edition of the laws printed to include all the latest changes. This has not beer done for five years and in that time there have been a good many important changes in the laws, in fact, all the more important legislation relating to the school laws has seen passed within a few years, including the compulsory school attendance law and laws relating to the method of certification. The new book will be in great demand as soon as published.

Two good cities are seeking to be desig nated as the place for the location of new company in the Iowa National Guard to take the place of the Reck Rapids com pany, which is to be mustered out. These are LeMars and Esterville, and Adjutant General Thrift, on whom the duty of making the selection falls, has gone to look over the two cities with a view to arranging for the location of the company. Th Rock Rapids company was found by Major Olmsted to be so far below grade that I would be useless to continue it in the guard He also ordered the mustering out of the hospital corps at Counct with and the companies at Atlantic and Villisca. He directed that unless better armories are secured the companies at Waukon and Waterloo be also mustered out, and that Must Stand Trial on Charge of Assisting is the band at Waukon be treated the same way. They will be given time to arrange for their new quarters.

State officials are much interested in the utcome of the two cases brought to test the validity of one feature of the new indeterminate sentence law, the right of the Board of Control or any other executive body to remove a convict from one prison to another. Attorneys representing Novak and Busse have sought to prevent their removal from Anamosa to Fort Madison. State officials insist that there is nothing in the case and that the courts must finally sustain the right of the Board of Centrol to make the removal of these men. The board has always exercised the right to 375 nishings in the interest of health, which district the state as to convicts and to direct where convicts shall be kept, but if the courts should austain the contention of the attorneys who have instituted these cases the whole new law would fail. Young Man Takes Poison. FT.
